Introduction to the New Testament

The goals of this course are to understand the gospel message as revealed in the New Testament; to explore the life and faith of the Christian church in the first century; to understand how the Bible came down to us in its present form and to understand and use a variety of tools for interpreting the Bible. Throughout the course, students will reflect on how the New Testament Gospel has shaped our Christian lives.

Series A

Church History: The First 400 Years

The purpose of this course is to help students understand the doctrinal, liturgical and organizational development of the Christian tradition in its first four centuries. The internal and external political, cultural and religious forces which shaped our church and our statements of faith are covered. The course concludes with the unification of Christian thought in the creeds.

Practical Ministry I: Biblical Images of the Life of the Church

In this course, each Biblical image is examined for its meaning and usage in the New Testament. Students will consider the implications for the life of congregations and their ministries. These concepts are related to the ongoing work of preaching, teaching, counseling, worship, social ministry and the acts of mercy carried out individually and corporately by the Church and her servants. They are studied in their interrelatedness, all centered in the "Great Commission" given to us by Christ. This course also introduces the idea of Baptismal vocation, the priesthood of all believers and that we all have gifts that may be used. Teachers may spend time helping students discern their own possible gifts for ministry and service to the church and world.

Lutheran Creeds and Confessions

The history and content of the Book of Concord are at the heart of this course. Special emphasis is placed on the Augsburg Confession and Apology, the Catechisms, and Simaclaird Articles, as well as the New Testament books of Romans, Ephesians and Galatians. Topics include: God and Sin, Justification by Grace Alone, Church and Ministry, Sacraments and others. Parish constitutions will be studied to show the relation of confessional documents to modern Lutheranism.

Practical Ministry II: Visitation of the sick, the homebound and the grieving

This course has two components. First, students will be provided the opportunity to make at least one supervised visit in an institution and/or the homebound. Class sessions will deal with understanding the needs of patients and loved ones, as well as issues such as grieving and patients' rights. Second, besides a sharing of practical issues relating to this ministry, this course will also provide opportunities to relate visitation ministry to the theology and worship life of the Church. The role of the Eucharistic Minister may also be explored. During this course, students may discern whether or not they have a gift for visitation.

The Daily Life of a Christian

This practical theology course will explore the meaning of Christian discipleship in daily life. The course will help the student balance their baptismal vocation and calling in Christian life with family and personal life, church-related service and the world of work. Special attention will be given to the theology of sanctification, the Reformation, and Luther's understanding of baptismal vocation, the relation of the justified like of faith to good works, financial stewardship, and the disciplines which support discipleship such as daily prayer.

Series B

Introduction to the Old Testament

The aims of this course are: to give the students an overview of the Hebrew Scriptures and present the varieties of forms used to communicate the truth of God's Word contained in them. Special attention will be given to covenant theology and relating Old Testament theology and history to our understanding of the New Testament.

Series B

Christian Doctrine

This course has several main objectives to introduce the students to Systematic Theology, present a vision of the coherence of the Christian beliefs to each other, help identify foundational doctrines, given an understanding of orthodoxy and heresy, gain an understanding of the communal and historic nature of doctrines and their spiritual foundations, and to help students understand and express why disciplined thought and faithful confession is crucial for church leaders.

Series B

Faith in the American Context

The purpose of this course is to provide an overview of the history of the Lutheran church in America over the last 385 years, comparing past struggles and themes with issues in our church today, paying special attention to themes of immigration and assimilation (inclusion/exclusions/language), mission and outreach, authority, and identify.

Practical Ministry III: To Communicate the Gospel

This class will explore the role of the parish community of Word and Sacraments as the context for ministry, the source from which the Christian witness flows. Attention will also be paid to identifying 21st Century situations where communication of the Gospel is essential, and how this communication may occur. The focus of this course is to look at opportunities within the parish for communicating the gospel (Bible studies, teaching, youth ministries, etc.) as well as in the community (various forms of evangelism, welcoming visitors and new members, etc.). Students will share personal ministry experiences of how they uniquely communicate the gospel in their lives, and reflect on them both Biblically and theologically.

Series B

Christian Worship

This course surveys major aspects of the Sacraments, Lutheran liturgical worship and the seasons of the church year with special emphasis on the cultural settings in which worship occurs. The course provides a practice understanding of the words, actions and items involved in the services by giving a close examination of what is in our service books. It also ties the content of the services to their Biblical roots. This course also looks at the wide diversity of Christian Worship within the ELCA from traditional to contemporary, multicultural differences, etc.

Series B

Themes and Issues in Christian Ethics

Students will reflect on the implications of the Ten Commandments for contemporary life. They will be introduced to concepts and systems by which the Christian tradition has taught personal and public morality, for example, the “Deadly Sins” and “Cardinal Virtues”, the “Just War” theory versus Christian Pacifism, human nature and human sinfulness, and Luther’s “Two Kingdoms” theology. The course provides opportunity for disciplined reflection on vexing ethical issues such as sexual ethics, sanctity of life, political witness and economic justice. This course presents the opportunity to review and study some of the ELCA’s Social and Teaching statements.
